Customer Success is Our Mission

Integrated Solutions Capabilities

Raytheon Australia's Integrated Solutions is the Mission System Integrator (MSI) and support agency of choice for Raytheon Australia's government and commercial customers.

Integrated Solutions delivers a broad range of Air, Land, Undersea, Above Water, Intelligence and Base Operations related capabilities including Program Management, Systems Engineering, Hardware and Software development, Systems Integration and Test, Product Support, Logistics and Supply Support, Operations Maintenance and Technical Support services. Integrated Solutions also provides access to the world's leading naval guided weapons and advanced sensors through Reachback to our US parent company, Raytheon.

Undersea Domain

Integrated Solutions is the naval customers' agency of choice in integration and support within the undersea domain.

Capabilities include:

- Operational Submarine Combat System Support;
- Provision of Systems Engineering, System Integration and Test for the Collins Replacement Combat System; and
- Provision of Products for the Collins Replacement Combat System.

Land Domain

Integrated Solutions also delivers and supports centrepiece technologies including tactical radios, sensors, radars, direct fire weapons and precision munitions. The company has strengths with the integration of command, control and communications systems.

Integrated Solutions partners with customers to deliver sustainable solutions to support the Hardened and Networked Army. Central to this is the provision of integrated tactical communications battle management, command and control, surveillance and target acquisition and ground-based air defence system solutions.

Services

Integrated Solutions provides operations, maintenance and technical support services to the Australian and US Governments, as well as Commercial customers. This includes the supply of training and support to Holden Australia, Holden New Zealand and Isuzu Australia.

Reachback

Raytheon Australia's parent company in the US, Raytheon Company, is a proven leader in innovative technologies and has a strong record of mission systems integration and product support. The term 'Reachback' describes our ability to tap into and leverage the great depth of engineering expertise that is resident throughout Raytheon. The benefits of 'Reachback' were first demonstrated in work on the Collins Class submarines and it is currently being utilised in the execution of the Hobart Class Air Warfare Destroyer program.
